Major Fred Fleming, who has just returned from Chicago, says that Missouri has the most representative, complete and well-arranged exhibit of any State in the West. He offers to wager that Missouri will take more prizes than any of the States to which she has been compared as having a poorer exhibit.

DID NOT LOOK LIKE MINERS.

Two Hundred Men From Colorado Ask to Be Taken Care Of.

Freight trains that arrived in this city last evening from Colorado points were loaded with men out of employment. They filled box-cars, lined the car roofs and hung on by their eyelids to trucks and brake-beams. There were upwards of 200 of them in all, and judging from appearances a shake-down of the whole crowd would not have realized the price of a night's lodging. About 100 of the men marched in a body to police headquarters and their spokesman told Chief Speers that they were miners from Pueblo, Col., in search of employment. They asked to be taken care of for the night and modestly requested that transportation East for the entire crowd be furnished this morning.

Chief Speers ordered the men to leave Kansas City as they had entered it.

"I do not believe that one in a hundred of them were miners," said Chief Speers last evening. "According to their statements they were bundled on the cars at Pueblo by the authorities and sent East for effect. We can not take care of such people here, and they must be made to move on. If the city should begin the business of dispensing charity to this class we would be overrun with them. The only course to pursue is to keep them moving on."

DREW ANOTHER BIG AUDIENCE.

"The Union Spy" More Evenly Produced Than on the Opening Night.

Colonel E. B. Temple's military drama, "The Union Spy," drew another large audience to the Coates Opera house last night.

The performance was smoother and the actors were freer from the crudities which marred the entertainment on the opening night. Some of the unimportant lines were omitted, thus shortening the play considerably and giving the soldier-thespians more time in which to carry out their parts.

The singing of Misses May Stearnes and Mattie Archer was an especial feature of last night's performance, and the whole company received liberal applause on frequent occasions throughout the progress of the play.

General Joseph Shelby will occupy a box and witness the drama tonight. A large number of tickets have been sold and the largest audience of the engagement is expected.

The engagement will close this evening.
