A DREARY TRADE RECORD.

ENORMOUS SHRINKAGE OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY IN 1893.

The Worst in Fifty Years—The Falling Off in Manufactures and in Wholesale Busness Amounts to About 40 Per Cent —Idle Money in Banks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade to-day says:

Starting with the largest trade ever known, mills crowded with work and all business stimulated by high hopes, the year 1893 has proved, in sudden shrinkage of trade, in commercial disasters and depression of industries, the worst for fifty years. Whether the final results of the panic of 1837 were relatively more severe the scanty records that exist do not clearly show. The year closes with prices of many products the lowest ever known, with millions of workers seeking in vain for work, and with charity laboring to keep back suffering and starvation in all our cities. All hope the new year may bring brighter days, but the dying year leaves only a dismal record.

The review of different departments of trade given to-day exhibits a collapse of industry and business which is almost without precedent. The iron industry sustained a weekly production of 181,551 tons pig May 1, but by October 1 the output had fallen to 73,895 tons, and the recovery to about 100,000 December 1 still leaves 40 per cent of the force unemployed. Over half the woolled manufacture is idle, excepting a brief recovery in November, has been since new wool in May, for all sales at the three chief markets in the eight months have been but 106,570,500 pounds, partly for speculation, the price having fallen 20 per cent for fleece, to the lowest point ever known, against 212,339,003 pounds in the same months last year. Sales of cotton goods are fully one-fourth below the usual quantity. The small advance attempted in boots and shoes a year ago was not sustained, but with prices as low as ever the shipments of boots and shoes from Boston are 24 per cent less than last year in December, and though in November the decrease was but 10.8 per cent, it has been 22 per cent for the last four months. Not only manufactured goods as a whole, but the most important farm products find little comfort.

Official and other reports give the notion that the crops of last year were so short that famine prices could be realized on purchases.
Enormous stocks were bought and held with the aid of banks till heavy receipts in the spring caused a collapse of wheat, pork and cotton pools. Disastrous failures helped to produce the alarm which soon made money impossible to get, but even at the worst hour of the panic, prices were scarcely lower than they are now. Wheat has repeatedly sold higher, and at Chicago at the lowest price ever known, and is but one-half cent above it now. Pork fell $7 in an hour when the speculation burst, but sells lower yet to-day. Cotton was lifted a cent with accounts of scarcity in September, but has lost most of the gain and sells below eight cents. Thus, unreasonable speculations, by preventing the sale of surplus products, have proved a great injury to farmers, at a time when their entire education of purchases is disastrous to all other industries.

Monetary anxieties appeared to cause the panic, and became epidemic when doubts were raised in April about redemption of treasury notes in silver. Western banks had given reason for distrust by connection, with real estate, produce and stock ventures. Deposits in national banks alone declined in five months nearly 500 million dollars. Purchases for consumption shrunk so much, so many hands were out of work or earning reduced wages.

LA GRIPPE CURED.

No Failures—Complete Relief—Everybody—Pe-ru-na.

Everybody, everywhere, is finding Pe-ru-na to be the only remedy for la grippe. Louise Wytenbach, Emmetsburg, Iowa, writes: "My mother had la grippe for the third time. We called a physician, but she continued to get worse. We quit him, and four bottles of Peru-na cured her." Mrs. S. N. Mercer, Greenville, Texas, says: "I had la grippe; my physician did not cure me. I commenced to take Pe-ru-na and in a short time I was sound and well. Pe-ru-na saved my life." Alfred Cheney, Kinderhook, Mich., writes: "I had lagrippe. Physicians treated me with little benefit; Pe-ru-na cured me." Mrs. Mary M. Pruitt, Pierce City, Mo., says: "I am sixty-eight years old, and Pe-ru-na cured me of la grippe." Rev.
H. Petty, Cherriton, Va., says: "I had la grippe very bad, and Pe-ru-na was, indeed, a panacea to me. I recommend it to others." ufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio.

CATARRHIS CONSUMPTION.

Consumption is decay; decay is consumption.
It is one of the mysteries why decay of the lungs alone should have been designated in all ages down to the present time as consumption by the medical fraternity, all the world over. We think it is about time that we should upset this delusion as we have several others of the same sort that had been handed down from one generation to another without correction until we took them in hand.

It certainly is a singular theory that the decay of these organs of the body should alone be designated as consumption. We can see no good reason why the decay of the kidneys should not be consumption as well as decay of the lungs. In one case the colds settle on and decay the lungs; in the other they settle on and decay the kidneys. If decay is consumption, which it certainly is, then both parts are consumed. The decayed matter in the blood and system consume the organs—that is consumption.

When the colds settle in the head the colds generate matter, that is catarrh. Catarrh matter is also generated on the lungs when the colds settle there. Catarrh matter is also generated on the kidneys when the colds settle there. You try to relieve the head of the catarrh matter by blowing it through your nose or by hawking it up or swallowing it.
You try to cough it up or expectorate it from the lungs when the lungs are filled with it.
The catarrh matter that generates on the kidneys, to some extent, you pass off in the urine as the pasty, slimy substance that will be deposited in the vessel will show on investigation. Under these circumstances, there is a decay of all these parts. Decay is consumption —all these parts are consumed.

It is not possible for one or two organs of the body to be decaying and the rest to remain in a healthy condition. Consequently, if one or two organs are decaying the whole are more or less under process of decay; that is, more or less under process of consumption, which is proof positive that all diseases of the system are more or less consumption. When the head is full of poisonous catarrh it is eating the head out; it is rotting it, it is decaying it, it is consuming it. That is consumption. You have the consumption when you have catarrh, the system and blood are filled with the poisonous catarrh matter; the system is under decline, under decay; decline and decay are consumption. If you have the catarrh of any part or organ you have the consumption. You may not die with it in a few days or months. You may drag along for years with it, but it will fetch you if you don't get a cure, and you will die of consumption without doubt.

There is no telling by how many years your life may be shortened by carrying around a head and system full of catarrh matter, but you are decaying

 sumption shrunk so much, so many hands
 were out of work or earning reduced wages, and business of all kinds was so reduced that the accumulation of idle money became the greatest ever known, exceeding 200 million dollars in New York. The transactions through all clearing houses outside New York in January were 12.5 per cent larger than last year, and 6.5 per cent larger than the first quarter, 3.7 per cent smaller in the third quarter and 22 per cent smaller in the last quarter.

Clear evidence of the shrinkage in different branches of business, is afforded by answers already received to several thousand circulars requesting figures of sales during the last half of 1893 and 1892. Full information of the railroads will be given hereafter, but returns of textile goods already show sales amounting to $13,843,875 this year; against $70,347, 882 last year, a decrease of 37 per cent.

Iron returns thus far aggregate $19,853, 180, against $65,520,921 last year, a decrease of 38 per cent; reports thus far of jewelry show decrease of 29 per cent; of furniture, 26 per cent; of dry goods, 25 per cent; of hats, 19.5 per cent; of hardware, 19 per cent; of shoe manufacture, 18 per cent, and by dealers, 8 per cent, and of clothing, 10 per cent. It is curious that the only trade showing an increase is in groceries, the aggregate sales being 1 per cent larger than in the last half of 1892.

In thirty-seven years, covered by the records of this agency, the number of failures has only once risen a little above 16,650 in a year. In 1893 the number reported has been 16,650.
 The aggregate of the liabilities in all failures reported and in six years have not risen above 200 million dollars, and this year the strictly commercial liabilities alone have exceeded $331,422,939; the liabilities of banking and financial institutions have been $210,956, 861, and the liabilities of railroads placed in the hands of receivers about $1,122,217,833.
 As all reports hitherto have been to some extent erroneous through inclusion of failures not strictly commercial the classified returns show 3,226 manufacturing failures, with liabilities of $164,707,419; 10,683 failures in legitimate trade, with liabilities of $85,527, 896, and 302 other failures, including brokers, speculators, etc., with liabilities of $36, 662,535. The average of liabilities in manufacturing is $50,000; in legitimate trading $8,000, and other failures $11,000.

—all these parts are consumed.
 It is not possible for one or two organs of the body
 decaying the whole are more or less under process
 the head is full of poisonous catarrh it is eating the head out; it is rotting it, it is decaying, it is consuming it. That is consumption. You have the
 and blood are filled with the poisonous catarrh matter; the system is under decline, under decay; decline and decay are consumption. If you have the
 or months. You may drag along for years with it,
 you will die of consumption without doubt.

 as sure as a tree that decays for the want of nourishment; that is, for the want of sap. You are decaying for the want of nourishment; that is, pure blood.
 Your blood is poisoned with diseased catarrh matter and your system is decaying from that cause; it is consumption. Yes, consumption is running ran-rampant in the land, caused by catarrh. The indications are as indelibly stamped in your general appearance as though your consumption was brought on by decay of the lungs, it is all the same, no difference in any respect. Instead of doctoring for catarrh by banging away at your nose and head, you better look around for a cure for consumption, for you have it when you have catarrh. Instead of looking around for a catarrh specialist you better look for a consumption specialist; that is, a systematic specialist, and give your nose a rest; it is entitled to it.

There are all kinds of specialists for curing catarrh alone. The woods are full of 'em. Some of them use sprayers, others injectors, others inhalers and nasal douches, others balsms, salves, snufflers, and snuffs. They are all going to cure it by banging away at your nose; others pretend to cure it by running a live wire up your nose, supposed to be heated to a white heat. This wire is to be run up the nose into the head and burn the catarrh out.
 This process is a grand success as far as burning out the head is concerned, and entirely harmless where there is no brain. Others have preparations for curing catarrh just by touching the tongue to a liquid preparation, but there is none that even pretend to cure catarrh by the only process that it can be cured by—that is, the systematic process by the constitutional process, by the consumptive cure process; a medicine must be competent to cure consumption in order to cure catarrh. for catarrh is a systematic disease and must be cured by a systematic medicine; it must be an inward medicine, competent to take the catarrh matter from the head, chest, stomach and blood, putting your whole system in condition so that you are not catching colds to produce catarrh or anything else.

There is only one medicine that will cure catarrh in this, the proper and only way that it can be cured.
 The Red Cross Constitutional is the only medicine to be found in any direction, north, south, east or west, that can cure catarrh or catarrh consumption, or any other kind of consumption. It is for regulating the system, the whole system and nothing but the system; there is no other way of curing catarrh or consumption or any other disease. They are all consumption; the system is decaying from disease at all times; decay is consumption—consumption is decay; catarrh is consumption. One or two weeks use of this medicine is sufficient to cure the most radical case of catarrh. Call or address Red Cross
