The recent lynching of a Negro in Mississippi by a mob of his own race furnished a sad commentary upon the condition of affairs down there. The law is the only protection a poor man has and even though it secures in many places, very little protection to Negroes, they should never be the ones to violate it. It is to be deplored that cooler judgement did not prevail and thus avert such an occurrence in this case.

The importation of 1000 Negro workmen to take the places of strikers in the Carnegie mills in Pittsburg is a warning to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers and other labor organizations, that it is sheer foolishness, on their part, to debar the Negro from membership. So long as we are prevented from sharing the benefits accruing from membership in Labor Unions we can not do otherwise than join the ranks of their enemy.

We are with Mr. Cleveland and his administration and we trust that the Negroes appointed to office under him will be men of whom we can speak without hanging our head in shame. One thing we ought to explain. We said: Mr. Cleveland has never given us an appointment, that is, he never sent our name to the senate. He named us during a recess of the Senate for Liberia but we resigned it before the Senate met.—
