fair to be held here in conjunction with the Pallas festivities and the fall meeting. The committee on subscriptions will report and the prospects for a sucexpressed the opinion that the fair should be held more of an event than ever this year.

Reports on the spring racing meeting will also be submitted. They will show flattering results that has been the most successful running year held in Kansas City.

DUNDEE PLACE TEMPORARILY A RIVAL OF MIDWAY PLAISANCE.

John Ching Gives a Song Service Which Is Both Unique and Edifying—"Whiter Than Snow" Makes Quite An Impression, but Eng Leon With "I Am So Happy" Carries Off the Honors.

"Blake down my idol, cast out ev'ly foe," sang Gaw Wing at the Dundee Place Methodist church last night; "Now wash me and I shall be whiter than snow," joined in Sam Lee on the chorus.
Perhaps the audience thought that there was undue emphasis on the second word of the last quotation, and perhaps it was only fancy, but it sounded very much like "washee," anyhow.

Gaw Wing and Sam Lee, it will readily be surmised, all full-fledged Chinamen. Together, with fourteen of their countrymen, they took part in an entertainment last night that was queer, very queer.

It was an unusual thing for the Ladies' Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the church at Fifteenth street and Troost avenue to undertake, and it required not a little nerve and no end of patience to carry it out. The ladies desired to give some sort of an entertainment in honor of their efforts in converting the heathen, and what more proper than a fair show-down of converted heathen to grace the occasion.

At the Cumberland Presbyterian church, corner of Thirteenth and Oak streets, there is a Sabbath school every Sunday afternoon for the Chinese.
Thirty of them Mongolians attend the school and just thirty teachers are required to, lead them to the straight and narrow path, for each particular John must be herded by himself. Otherwise John gets to giggling at the queer ways of his lady teacher, and it is "no learning" for him over more.
Miss Mand Dimmett, who has taken much interest in the "boys," as they are called, says that they are learning rapidly and have wonderful capacities for remembering what she tells them. Miss Dimmett has also taught her pupils to sing, but of their abilities in that line she is not so ready to speak. These Chinamen were on exhibition last night under the double leadership of Miss Dim-mett and Gaw Wing, a Fifteenth street washee man.

W. Jenkins' Sons, music dealers. Sansone is only 19 years old, and is a brother of Antone Sansone, recently taken to the penitentiary under sentence of ninety-nine years for the killing of a fellow Italian.

When the Hannibal and St. Joseph train, which leaves the Union depot at 4:30 p. m. stopped at the bridge depot yesterday afternoon, a man got on the train and demanded money of a woman. She protested and he used very abusive and profane language and began to draw his revolver, whereupon the brakeman threw him off the platform and the train pulled out. The man was supposed to be the woman's husband. Their names were not learned.

Richard Brown of New York was arrested yesterday in the ladies' waiting room of the Union depot. He was drunk and was paying unwelcome attentions to several young women. When searched at the St. Louis avenue police station

Zartman called the "boys" to the front when it came their turn, but not a step would they budge without a word from Gaw Wing. In fact, Gaw is the Ward McAllister of the Chinese colony on Fifteenth street, and as a fitting result he is the only one of them who wears Melican clothes. Gaw has been in this country ten years, too, and he can speak English in a manner that makes him a very oracle among his glibber-speaking fellow-citizens. But to the concert!

After prayer by Rev. O. P. Wright, Eng Leon came forward to repeat the Lord's Prayer in Chinese. Eng knew his piece very well, but he seemed a little confused by the imposing array of ladies that sat immediately behind him, and clung frantically to the railing for support. Eng was arrayed regardless in a silk blouse and other nameless and unknown things which Chinamen wear. Then came the great duet by Sam Lee and Gaw Wing, entitled, "Whiter than Snow." ABOVE HIS PARTY.

Banker Connor Resigns From a Republican Club Which Was Untruthful.

New York, July 28.—Washington E. Connor, banker and broker, has announced that he has resigned from the Republican club of 450 Fifth avenue because of the sending out recently by the committee on national affairs of the club of a circular attributing the present disorganized condition of finances to President Cleveland and the Democratic party. The circular speaks of the situation as the "Democratic panic of 1893" and states that the present condition of affairs is due not so much to the operation of the Sherman silver purchase act as to the lack of confidence by the general community in President Cleveland, the members of his Cabinet and the present Congress.

Mr. Connor objects to the club attributing such reasons for the present era of depression. He believes the club's action is calculated to injure the country by depriving the community of the support of Republican business men and financiers in a time of need.

 the mighty Achilles, snked in his tent, and Gaw sang "There Shall Be Showers of Blessings" with great gusto and alone.

By this time there were anxious, almond-shaped glances turned toward a corner of the church where certain Chinese lanterns and huge Chinese parasols were clustered around certain little white covered tables, on which reposed a number of saucers and glass cake stands. The hint was taken, and immediately after the concert was over John might be seen busily engaged in tuning up his vocal organs with ice cream. He was right "is it" last night, and the concert was a success, both for the ladies and as an object lesson of the rapid strides this race is taking in language and religion.

 portation from reducing the freight rates agreed upon by the railroads of the State in their readjustment of the rates to meet the requirements of the maximum rate law passed by the last Legislature. The suit was filed by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and the allegation is made that the board intends to make cuts on the rates that will compel the road to do business at a loss.
 The petition also claims that the law is in conflict with the Federal statutes and with the constitution. The order granted today is temporary and only effective until the case can be heard upon its merits, which will be September 4.
 None of the other companies operating in the State joined with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy in the case. It is expected, however, that all except the roads exempted from the provisions of the law will file applications tomorrow.
 The exempted lines are those built since January, 1889. The new law goes into effect August 1.

AN INQUIRY IS ASKED.

resigned because of the sending out recently by the committee on national affairs of the club of a circular attributing the present disorganized condition of finances to President Cleveland and the Democratic party. The circular speaks of the situation as the "Democratic panic of 1893" and states that the present condition of affairs is due not so much to the operation of the Sherman silver purchase act as to the lack of confidence by the general community in President Cleveland, the members of his Cabinet and the present Congress.

Mr. Connor objects to the club attributing such reasons for the present era of depression. He believes the club's action is calculated to injure the country by depriving the community of the support of Republican business men and financiers in a time of need.

DALLAS, TEX., July 28.—Henry Miller, colored, was hanged here today for the murder of Policeman Brewer. On the gallows he said: "I bid you all goodby, hoping we will meet in heaven. If anybody has anything against me, please say so, and I will drop on my knees and beg his pardon." As the trap was sprung Miller was praying. His neck was broken and he died without a struggle.

Blood Poisoning

"Twelve years ago my wife was picking raspberries when she scratched herself on a briar, the wound from which soon developed into a running sore, between her knee and ankle. We tried medical skill on every side, with no effect.
 About a year ago she read of Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it herself, and while taking the first bottle she felt better and continued with it until today she is entirely cured and better than ever. The sore was healed up in seven weeks. Her limb is perfectly sound." J. N.
 AUGHENBAUGH, Eters, York Co., Pa.
