Savings Banks Depositors' Committees Still Refuse to Work Together.

The effort to restore harmony among the members of the reopening and prosecuting committees of the Kansas City Safe Deposit and Savings bank was continued yesterday by E. L. Dimmitt and Prof. Armstrong. The factions were not united and the prospects for union do not seem bright, but the two mediators are not discouraged and will continue their labor today. As stated in THE TIMES yesterday, one member of the prosecuting committee will not consent to unite with the reopening committee unless Chairman W. H. Miller resigns. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Miller stated that he would be glad to resign if some one would take up the work of reorganization. An attempt was made to induce Mark Coppinger, one of the appraisers of the suspended bank, to use his influence to unite the discordant committeemen, but he refused to take any part whatever.

The object of the mediators is to unite all the depositors, through their committees, in a plan to reopen the bank. The plan proposed is to have the stock-holders surrender their stock and subscribe $100,000 in cash to be used as capital stock in the reorganized institution. The total capital stock of the new bank is to be $500,000, and the remaining $400,000 will be subscribed by depositors whose deposits exceed $100. Those whose deposits do not amount to $100 will be given interest-bearing time certificates. Mr. Dimmitt said that O. H. Dean, representing many of the stock-holders, had approved this plan. A meeting, with the unity effort in view, will be held tonight in the American Bank building.
