

LIGHT OF THE HOME.

up, noisy, laughing babies—Well Nourished and Growing Upon a Diet of Lactated Food.

plump, noisy, laughing baby is perpetual shine in the house.

A baby full of noise and fun, The veriest mystery under the sun, As brimful of mischief and joy and glee, As ever a human frame can be.

Each baby is well nourished and grows—Such a baby is one that is fed on lactated food.

Lactated food frees mothers from long days of anxiety. It is within the reach of all classes.

Lactated food saves every year thousands of infants' lives. It is the best known preventive of the dread cholera infantum. It is the safest, most nourishing diet for an infant. Hundreds of happy children have been brought up on nothing else, and the unasked testimony that has come in the grateful prayers of happy mothers has shown that wherever it has been used it has succeeded.

house together. We were met at the door, I think, by Mrs. Elmore. I passed her and stepped in, when she said: 'Carlos, you not to see your father?' I went on up stairs to Elmore's room and found the door closed. I turned around and came downstairs. Mrs. Elmore then began to talk to Carlos, and I presume it is not necessary to repeat it, but it was more violent than anything she had previously said upon the subject. She ordered us out of the house and a gentleman in charge of the house ordered us out also."

PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS AT POISONING.

Colonel Twitchell then told the story of the two previous alleged attempts upon Elmore's life. The first story he said was told him by Elmore himself, and in the second alleged attempt part of the facts were of his own personal knowledge and part were related to him by Mr. Elmore. His statements did not differ from the story previously printed in the TIMES.

H. W. Jones and S. E. Swanson testified as to the facts related by Mr. Elmore to Colonel Twitchell. Mr. Elmore and these three gentlemen had occupied the same office in the New York Life building, and were intimate and confidential friends. They both testified that Mr. Elmore had no hesitancy in accusing his wife of attempting to kill him on both these occasions. Mr. Swanson said that Mr. Elmore had told his wife that he suspected she had attempted to poison him. He said that on one occasion while he and Mrs. Swanson were dining with Mr. and Mrs. Elmore that Mrs. Elmore said, 'Mrs. Swanson, would you keep house for a man who accuses you of putting poison in his coffee?'

Robert Kane was the last witness of the day. He said that although living in the same house he knew very little of Mr. Elmore's last illness. Friday night Mr. Elmore fell in the hall and he assisted him to his bedroom. Saturday night he was asked to summon Dr. Wedding, and did so. He said he heard nothing more Sunday, and did not think he was dangerously ill.

This concluded the testimony for the day, and the coroner adjourned the investigation until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Carlos H. Elmore, son of the dead man, has not yet arrived, but is expected here this morning.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill. Small dose. Small price.

OBJECT TO THE PAVING.

OUTLINES OF THE DEFENSE.

LITTLE'S ATTORNEYS WILL ATTEMPT TO PROVE JOHNSTON A "BAD MAN."

Mrs. Sam Wood and United States Marshal Walker Summoned as Witnesses in the Murder Hearing in Progress in Kansas City, Kan.—For the First Time the Lines Along Which the Defense Will Be Conducted Are Plainly Seen—Yesterday's Testimony.

The counsel for the defendant in the celebrated Little murder case across the State line has begun to show its hand and yesterday for the first time since the killing of Johnston its plan of defense was partially made public. Although Little's attorneys have all along stated that a plea of self-defense would be entered, yet they would not state along what lines the defense would be made except that Johnston had defamed Little's character in public.

In the trial before Justice Betts yesterday it developed that not only would the defense attempt to show that Johnston had maligned Little on the evening of the shooting, but that it would endeavor to prove that Johnston was in the act of drawing a revolver to snoot Little when he himself was shot down. Further than this, Little's counsel claim they will produce evidence to show that Johnston had threatened to "do Little up" on the night that the fatal shooting occurred and that Johnston was a dangerous man who always went heavily armed.

Among others who will be placed on the stand to testify as to the character of the murdered man, will be United States Marshal Dick Walker. The defense proposes to prove by him, so it claims, that Johnston laid in ambush with a number of other frontiersmen at the time of the Stevens county-seat war two years ago to slay their opponents in the famous controversy. Although this testimony is not material in the Little-Johnston tragedy, it will be introduced for the purpose of showing that Johnston was a "bad man."

The attorneys for the defendant also admitted yesterday that one of the witnesses mentioned in the affidavit introduced on the opening day as being in Chicago, is Mrs. Sam Wood. It is also learned that the defense is in communication with a man named Trumbull, now in that city, who formerly lived on Pacific avenue, in Kansas City, Kan., and who claims to have enough evidence concerning the affray to clear Little.

MRS. SAM WOOD WILL ARRIVE TODAY.

Mrs. Wood is expected to arrive from Chicago today and remain until she is called upon to testify. A subpoena has also been issued for W. Brown, clerk of the "sump" House of Representatives at Topeka last winter, but just what the defense expects to prove by him can not be learned. Constable White has failed so far to get service on Northcutt, the insurance agent, a very material witness. Northcutt was with Johnston when he met Little in front of the express office that evening and told Little not to speak to him. He also took supper and remained with Johnston until the shooting occurred. Northcutt claims he is very busy on the Missouri side of the line, but that he will go over today and testify.

It was hinted late yesterday afternoon that the State did not want Northcutt in the preliminary trial; that it would not introduce all of the witnesses it had subpoenaed and that it would rest its case as soon as court convenes this morning. County Attorney Cobb, however, stated that every witness for the State terminated by an examination of a contusion on a human body whether said contusion was received within fifteen minutes of death, the witness said it had. The defense showed that Johnston has been a well-built, muscular man.

Albert Holzmank, proprietor of the furniture store near where the shooting occurred, took the stand and emphatically told the same story as did J. W. Wallace. He said that after Johnston and Towner fell to the street they both raised for their feet and for a moment Johnston leaned against Towner. He then dropped again and was immediately carried into Conroy's drug store. He saw Little put the revolver in his pocket after firing the shot, and did not see the weapon again.

Police Sergeant Darpley, who placed Little under arrest, was also examined when the hearing was adjourned until today.

CAUGHT BY SOGUS TICKETS

Kansas City's Shrewd Scalpers Taken In by a Very Smooth Swindler.

The ticket brokers of Kansas City have had a large number of forged railroad tickets unloaded upon them by a smooth sharper, and when the welcomed news that he had been taken into custody at St. Louis was received yesterday morning there was rejoicing all along the line, for the brokers now see the chance of revenge.

The forged tickets bought by the Kansas City brokers are clever imitations of a special issue of tickets of the New York, Ontario and Western company. They read as excursion tickets good for a trip from New York to Chicago and return, via the Wabash, Grand Trunk and Ontario roads. On the back they bear stamp of date of sale, July 10, and are good for return until November 15. The special blue stripes noticeable on this company's tickets appear in good representation on each side of the forgeries, and the name of the general passenger agent of the road, J. T. Anderson, is also upon them. The only error upon the forgeries, and the one that first aroused suspicion and led to the apprehension of the seller, is the misspelling of the word "destination."

The tickets were sold in small numbers to nearly all the brokers in the city Monday night. The man selling them told different stories to each broker. At one place he said the three tickets he offered for sale were bought at New York for himself, father and sister, and that after reaching Chicago they had decided to go West and remain until after the tickets should have expired. At another office he posed as a representative of the railroad company detailed to place the tickets upon the market, and he at once sold fifteen of them. The brokers say that it is quite common for railroad companies to put tickets in their hands in this way, and hence the man's story aroused no suspicion. He was well dressed, of good address, acted in no hurry and seems to have impressed the brokers so favorably that none of them thought the tickets were bogus.

Suspicion was first aroused by a chat among brokers when the difference in his stories was learned. A telegram sent to Passenger Agent Anderson brought the reply that it was known by the company that forged tickets were being sold about the country, and that a large number had been sold in Chicago. The answering telegram also pointed out the error in the word "destination," an "r" taking the place of a "d" in the last syllable. The error had already been noted by the brokers and the telegram convinced them in their suspicions. Telegrams were immediately sent all over the country warning brokers to look out for the man, with the result that he was caught in St. Louis Tuesday night by J. Claude, a broker in whose office he attempted to dispose of one of the tickets. He gave his name as J. T. Anderson, but refused to

Business

Today we to be sh

We do the world in a 200,000.

Tomorrow Friday—a

you to co about the piles of m The val

now be j they bear

WASH GOO

- 6½c Chai
- 8½c Pri
- 18c Dark
- 5½c
- 20c Ligh
- 7½c
- 12½c Cr
- 50c Scot
- 25c Am
- 8½c Dre
- 25c flue i
- 75c Sco
- 68c Sco

All Ren nut street

WHITE CO

- 25c Shad
- 19c Nov
- 35c Plat
- 65c Vict
- 50c Vict
- 12½c Pl

BED SETS

$2.50 La

RIBBONS.

- 75c and
- 25c tomor
- 25c and
- wide, will

BELTS M

We are Belts for Any 50 All our that wer marked c

STAMPEL

- 50c St
- Scarf fo
- 50c St
- 75c St
- Pieces f

Just n the cle

...he assisted him to his bed... night he was asked to sum-... and did so. He said he... more Sunday, and did not... dangerously ill.

...the testimony for the day... adjourned the investigation... this afternoon. Carlos H. El... the dead man, has not yet... acted here this morning.

...cure sick headache and pre-... Carter's Little Liver Pills. This... carter. One pill a dose. See ad-... all pill. Small dose. Small price.

LET TO THE PAVING.

Brokers Who Do Not Want to Asphalt on Tenth Street.

Wood, Pleasant Chitwood and... yama yesterday filed with the... Works objection to the special... ed against their property for... ed asphalt of Tenth street from... e. They state that the Board... ks did not indorse its recom-... n any resolution passed by the... contracts, it is claimed, were... the prescribed ten days and... not begun or completed within... time, nor was the penalty of $10... ed. They also claim that the... ed $2.50 per foot in cost and... was not in accordance with the... The point is made that the... are yards of paving is not cor-... e Tenth street is wider from... odland and from Brooklyn to... m Woodland to Brooklyn, yet... ortion is assessed the same as at... nt.

GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Readily Increasing as the Summer Moves Along.

ago bill for a period extending... to July 29 has been made up by... f Health office and will be sub-... approval at the next Council... o total number of loads of garb-... was $46, at a total cost of... here were 49,569 cubic feet of... ed away.

for each ward was as follows:
 $105.40; Second, $100.59; Third,
 $94.04; Fifth, $198.90; Sixth,
 $251.29; Eighth, $237.91;
 $199.96; Tenth, $129.78;— complaint... e to $1,401.18.

COUNCIL MATTERS.

Meeting of the August Body
Today Be Called This Week.

day night will be held the regular... y the City Council. It is under-... ever, that Mayor Cowherd will call... or one night this week for the pur-... rid of accumulated business. A... riation ordinance for salaries for... e introduced. Alderman Warneke... chers' and packers' license ordi-... budget and will try to push it... The ordinance provides for a... $25 per year for each butcher,... other person retailing meat. The... e classed as wholesale meat dealers... so subjected to a $25 license. Ald... n Warneke is also getting up a... nance to contain strict regulations... wagon wheel tires. The tires of... ns must be two inches in width, ... heaviest wagons must have, under... nce, not less than four-inch tires.

Kitchens of the Hall.

...mist Hunter yesterday con-... is of a piece of ice bought from... one of the company's. The ice was... and the water analyzed. It was a... ple and no germs were discovered... or will continue his analysis—un-... om each of the different companies... spected.

...could not be learned. Constab... failed so far to get service on Northcutt, the insurance agent, a very material witness. Northcutt was with Johnston when he met Little in front of the express office that evening and told Little not to speak to him. He also took supper and remained with Johnston until the shooting occurred. Northcutt claims he is very busy on the Missouri side of the line, but that he will go over today and testify.

It was hinted late yesterday afternoon that the State did not want Northcutt in the preliminary trial; that it would not introduce all of the witnesses it had subpoenaed and that it would rest its case as soon as court convenes this morning. County Attorney Cobb, however, stated that every witness for the State would be examined, and that it would require at least two more days to get through with that side. The attorneys for the defense claim that they will place all their witnesses on the stand with the exception of Little. He will only go on when the case is taken up for final trial in the Court of Common Pleas. The State's attorneys believe that the statement of the defense to the effect that it will introduce witnesses is a scheme to get all the evidence of the State's witnesses at the preliminary, and that no witnesses will be introduced on the other side.

Attorney Hale has made arrangements so as to enable him to attend the trial regularly. He was billed to leave for Fall River, Mass., today to take depositions in an important case, but he succeeded in entering into a stipulation with the opposing counsel to postpone the matter until August 12. This will give him all the time he wants at the preliminary. His feelings were aroused over the alleged attempt of Mr. Little's attorneys to freeze him out of the case at the very beginning.

AN EYE-WITNESS OF THE SHOOTING.

The first witness examined yesterday morning was J. Y. Andrews, a stockman, who was an eye-witness to the shooting. He was walking along in front of his building, known as the Masonic block, in front of which the murder took place, when he saw Little coming up the street. At the same time he heard some member of the Johnston party make some remarks, but could not understand what they were. When Little had reached a point within a few feet of him, he noticed him suddenly advance toward Johnston and exclaim: "You scoundrel, you have been dogging me all day." With these words he drew a revolver and fired. Johnston reeled and, grappling Towner, the two fell into the street. On cross-examination an effort was made to find out what the nature of the conversation was that passed between the members of the Johnston party while Little was approaching. The witness said it was so indistinct that he could not understand it.

The next witness called was J. W. Wallace, bookkeeper at the Abernathy Furniture company's office. His testimony did not vary a particle from that given by him at the coroner's inquest. It did vary, however, from the testimony of E. W. Towner, the first witness called in the case. Towner testified that Little was fully ten feet from Johnston when the shot was fired, and that after Johnston fell he scarcely made a move. Wallace said that when the shooting occurred Little was so close to Johnston that by the mere extension of his arm he could have touched him; that after falling to the pavement Johnston arose, reeled around and fell again. The witness said that as Little drew the revolver Johnston sank back, as if in fear of bodily harm.

THE ART OF DRAWING A GUN.

Counsel for the defense attempted to show by the witness that the movement which he saw Johnston make impressed him that Johnston was trying to draw a revolver. Wallace, however, stated that he never saw a person in the act of drawing a revolver and for that reason was not competent to answer the question. At this point Attorney Hutchings said he had seen several revolvers drawn, and in every case the same motion was made that the witness said Johnston made.

"Well, you must remember, Mr. Hutchings," said Mr. Hale, "that this witness did not trot in the same company that you did. He said that he never saw a revolver drawn, and pray tell how he could be considered a competent judge in that line?"

Mr. Wallace was kept on the stand for

...among brokers when the... stories was learned. A telegram sent to Passenger Agent Anderson brought the reply that it was known by the company that forged tickets were being sold about the country, and that a large number had been sold in Chicago. The answering telegram also pointed out the error in the word "destination," an "i" taking the place of a "t" in the last syllable. The error had already been noted by the brokers and the telegram convinced them in their suspicions. Telegrams were immediately sent all over the country warning brokers to look out for the man, with the result that he was caught in St. Louis Tuesday night by J. Claude, a broker in whose office he attempted to dispose of one of the tickets. He gave his name in St. Louis as John D. Bond, but refused to tell of his home.

About fifty of the bogus tickets were sold to Kansas City brokers. Among the purchasers were: H. A. McCreary, Sol Speyer, Lavering, Yost, Rose and Amb.

Excelsior Springs (Mo.) Waters.
 We are pleased to announce that we have secured the sole agency for supplying the trade with the Excelsior Springs (Mo.) waters, including the famous Sulphur-Saline, Regent, Soterian and Soterian Ginger Ales. Send us your orders. Telephone No. 807. A car-load just received. MARTIN-PERRIN MERCHANTILE CO.

FINDING SECRETED PROPERTY.

Attachments Against a Lounge Company
May Yet Be Satisfied.

The closing up of a week ago of the factory and warehouse of the Kansas City Lounge company, owned by George Miller and George Jernigan, at 1417 Walnut street, on an attachment taken out by Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, seems not to have come any too soon, if soon enough. When the sheriff levied on the company's establishment very little was found. It was stated that goods had been taken away and stored in various parts of the city for the purpose of secreting them from creditors. Several attachments were sprung, but for a time it looked as if there was nothing to satisfy them.

Sheriff O'Neill and the agents of the creditors did not lose heart, however. They have seized on lounges and property in half a dozen places where they were stored, it is alleged, by Miller and Jernigan. Yesterday morning they found about $3,000 worth of the company's goods stored at 13 East Levee. The goods were seized by the sheriff, who now has about $3,000 worth of property to satisfy attachments amounting to about $3,000. The search for property hidden by Miller and Jernigan is still in progress.

Court Notes.

Laura Conway filed suit yesterday for divorce from her husband, Oscar C. Conway, on the ground of desertion and failure to support. Conway is now living in Oklahoma.

An attachment suit for $375, alleged to be due for the use of the Star elevator, was brought against Henry Parker yesterday by the Missouri Elevator and Terminal company. The sheriff levied on wheat belonging to Parker to satisfy the attachment.

Circuit Court Record.

NEW SUITS FILED.
 17918. Santa Fe Exchange bank vs. W. A. Sanders and A. W. Adams, partners, as Sanders, Adams & Co.; promissory note.
 17920. Laura Conway vs. Oscar C. Conway; divorce.
 17921. The Missouri Elevator and Terminal company vs. Henry Parker; attachment.

From Governor Jones of Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., April 3, 1893.—"I have a large family, and have long since learned to use Pond's Extract with comfort and satisfaction."
 THOS. G. JONES.

MISSING MR. BRINKERHOFF.

Kansas City Friends Are Concerned Over His Sudden Disappearance.
 No trace has yet been found of George M. Brinkerhoff, a prominent financier of Springfield, Ill., the story of whose mysterious disappearance was fully told in THE TIMES yesterday. Secretary Felton of the Real Estate exchange has received a letter from a relative of the missing man giving a description

...Any 50c or 75c on $1.
 All our fine Silk Belts that were $1.25 and $1.50 marked down to 50c e

STAMPED LINENS.

50c Stamped Mom Scarf for 35c.
 50c Stamped Linen 75c Stamped Linen Pieces for 35c.

Just now, all of the cleaning out stuffs is going on. Every row will prove to be a bargain. Who come to the Bargain Friday. You see we no will make prices so low that they within the reach you think of a have ever patron that has dealt more than we for the nine years and have answered a answer is only o into words.

Bullone, Moon

A FAILURE

To secure
 Piano Bar
 is to negle
 to save $10
 We have a $340 Fisch
 $300 Harr
 $325 Jewe
 and many
 This spec
 new and Call or w

J. W. JENI

921
Palace
 PROMPTNESS, SA
 Kansas City Om

... Alderman Warneke
 packers' license orti-and will try to push it ance provides for a year for each butcher, a retailing meat. The wholesale meat dealers to a $25 license.
 is also getting up a tain strict regulations el tires. The tires of two inches in width, gons must have, under s than four-inch tires.

... of the Hall.
 r yesterday concluded of ice bought from a company's. The ice was er analyzed. It was a germs were discovered.
 nue his analysis until the different companies

... did not return home yes-
 but will arrive today.
 day a committee from an Endeavor will call an objection against the crew giving Sunday
 rks.

... e and Hays of the Lower mmittee have filed a ree appropriating $2,500 round the City hall. The for new sidewalks, stone on fence and has been on by the committee.

... Streets John May has t of the expenses of his pril 17 to August 1. The the period amounted to e same period in 1892
 ere $29,417.90.

... angostura Bitters to every r you drink. The genuine y Dr. Siegert & Sons. Ask

... he Unfortunate.
 Auxiliary to the Keeley
 eekly meeting yesterday dge building. Arrange-g sending another patient plan of introducing the in the Ex-Confederates' ille, Mo., was discussed.
 us will visit the Soldiers'
 uth and see what success aving there with a view of t the Confederate Home.
 rated lectures under the name will be given here at house.

... tory to sell at the Breeding 1911, Chicago, Ill.

... sion of his armie could have touched him,
 that after falling to the pavement Johnston arose, reeled around and fell again. The witness said that as Little drew the revolver Johnston sank back, as if in fear of bodily harm.

THE ART OF DRAWING A GUN.
 Counsel for the defense attempted to show by the witness that the movement which he saw Johnston make impressed him that Johnston was trying to draw a revolver. Wall-lace, however, stated that he never saw a person in the act of drawing a revolver and for that reason was not competent to answer the question. At this point Attorney Hutchings said he had seen several revolvers drawn, and in every case the same motion was made that the witness said Johnston made.

"Well, you must remember, Mr. Hutchings," said Mr. Hale, "that this witness did not trot in the same company that you did.
 He said that he never saw a revolver drawn,
 and pray tell how he could be considered a competent judge in that line?"

Mr. Wallace was kept on the stand for over an hour.

Dr. George M. Gray, who conducted the post-mortem examination on the body of Johnston, was placed on the stand in the afternoon, and gave a complete description of the wounds. He said that from the course the bullet took Johnston must have been standing in a stooped position, with his left side slightly turned toward Little. He then went on and told the course of the ball, as given at the coroner's inquest.

On cross-examination he was questioned very closely in reference to the bruises found on Johnston's body. He said the abrasion on the right hip was caused either by a fall or a blow, and that the two on his forehead were caused by a blunt instrument. He testified that these wounds were undoubtedly inflicted inside of fifteen minutes before death ensued.

When asked if medical science had been reduced to such a fine point that it could be de-

NEW SUITS FILED.
 17019. Santa Fe Exchange bank vs. W. A. Sanders and A. W. Adams, partners as Sanders, Adams & Co.; promissory note.
 17020. Laura Conway vs. Oscar C. Conway; divorce.
 17021. The Missouri Elevator and Terminal company vs. Henry Parker; attachment.
From Governor Jones of Alabama.
 MONTGOMERY, ALA., April 3, 1893.—"I have a large family, and have long since learned to use Pond's Extract with comfort and satisfaction."
 THOS. G. JONES.

MISSING MR. BRINKERHOFF.
Kansas City Friends Are Concerned Over His Sudden Disappearance.

No trace has yet been found of George M.
 Brinkerhoff, a prominent financier of Springfield, Ill., the story of whose mysterious disappearance was fully told in THE TIMES yesterday. Secretary Helton of the Real Estate exchange has received a letter from a relative of the missing man giving a description of him and asking that a watch be kept in this city, as it was thought probable that he would come here. None of Mr. Brinkerhoff's friends in this city have seen him in the past six months. A member of the real estate firm of Simpson & Graves said yesterday that if Mr. Brinkerhoff should come here he would probably call at their office at once.

"I have known him for years," he said.
 "He invested heavily in real estate in this city during the boom, and has been doing business with us ever since. He was one of the most perfect gentlemen it has ever been my good fortune to meet, and we are greatly concerned in his welfare. I do not think he was demented, as he had a very strong mind.
 I can not account for his disappearance in any way."

"PARAGON" brand typewriter supplies at the Remington office, 105 West Ninth, telephone 251.

... and many others.
 This special line com
 new and slightly use
 Call or write for ter

J. W. JENKINS'
921 MAIN
Palace Sta

PROMPTNESS, SAFETY, RELI-
Kansas City Omnibus & C

—SUCCESSORS TO—
LANDIS TRANSFER AND LIVER
 Office and Stables, Seventh and TELEPHONE
 Offices in principal hotels and dep
 Uniform rates day and night.
 The best equipped stables in the V

RUBBER AND LEATHER
DODGE WOOD SPLIT PU PIPE, VALVES AND ENGINEER'S TOOLS AND

The Engl
ENGINE & SUP
 1200-1202 SEVEN AV
 KANSAS C

TO REN
PIANO

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

